HARBOR 25

New 25 foot sailboat from W.D. Schock

Corona, California - Classic beauty and modern performance all come together in the stunning new Harbor 25 sailboat. Created by W.D. Schock, it can be easily sailed by one yet enjoyed by many. In recent years most sailboat manufactures have ignored smaller sized boats leaving a gap in the market for those seeking a modern, modest-sized cruising boat. The Harbor 25 fills this need by providing the technical benefits of current design and construction techniques in a graciously styled boat.

The Harbor 25 is both fun and easy. A generous sailplan offers plenty of power yet is easily controlled with the self-tacking roller furling jib and lazy jack guided mainsail. But what truly separates the Harbor 25 is it's stability, upwind performance and quick handling. A moderned swept back bulb keel keeps the weight low for maximum stability and the aft positioned spade rudder provides exceptional control.

Since most onboard time is spent above deck, the spacious cockpit is designed to comfortably accommodate six without compromising performance. The beautifully finished interior includes an enclosed head, four overnight berths, galley sink, built-in ice chest and comfortable main cabin seating. Storage is plentiful throughout and includes a large aft deck lazette. Ultra-quiet, the 12.5hp Honda four stroke saildrive pushes the Harbor 25 at up to six and a half knots using the Flex-o-Fold two bladed folding propeller.

W. D. Schock is celebrating their 60th Anniversary in 2006. Family owned and operated since inception, they are one of the United State's oldest manufacturers of sailboats. They have built almost 13,000 boats in 60 different models including such popular designs as the Lido 14, Santana 20 & 22, Schock 35 and the Harbor 20.
